

Dora E. Crane,

May Term, 1929 , May 14, 1929, Court met pursuant to adjournment, Present Hon. ✓
George B. Scofield, Judge

20624

vs.

Entry dated May 10th, 1929.

Lee Crane.

This day this cause came on to be heard upon the petition of the plaintiff, the defendant, Lee Crane, having been duly and legally served with process more than six weeks prior to the hearing of this case, and having been allowed the statutory rule day, the evidence was argued by counsel and submitted to the Court.

And Court finds that the plaintiff, Dora E. Crane and Lee Crane were married on the 1st day of February, 1899, in Adams County, Ohio, and that five children were born as the issue of said marriage, all of whom are married or able to support themselves; that the defendant, Lee Crane, prior to the time that he was taken to the hospital, was guilty of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty toward the plaintiff herein, and by reason thereof, said plaintiff is entitled to a divorce as prayed for in her petition; that the defendant, after his recovery and release from the hospital willfully absented himself from the plaintiff for more than ten years last past.

It is therefore ordered, adjudged and decreed that the plaintiff, Dora E. Crane, be and she is hereby granted, and given a divorce from the defendant, Lee Crane, by reason of his aggression, and on the grounds of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty, which took place prior to the illness of the defendant; that said defendant, Lee Crane, be, and he hereby is barred of all dower right, as well as any other right, title and interest in and to the property of the plaintiff, or any property that said plaintiff may hereafter acquire, and that judgment is hereby rendered in favor of the plaintiff, for costs herein, for which execution is awarded.
